DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claim(s) 1, 3-18, 20-30, as specifically drawn to the special technical feature of a method of treating an individual with non-small cell lung cancer, comprising administering to that individual a MUC-1 formulation comprising a liposome and at least one polypeptide selected from the group consisting of SEQ ID NO: 1 and 2.

Group 2, claim(s) 2 and 19, as specifically drawn to the special technical feature of a method of treating an individual with prostate cancer, comprising administering to that individual a MUC-1 formulation comprising a liposome and at least one polypeptide selected from the group consisting of SEQ ID NO: 1 and 2.

The inventions listed as Groups 1-2 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The special technical feature of the invention of Groups 1-2 appears to be the use of a MUC-1 based formulation comprising a liposome and at least one polypeptide selected from the group consisting of SEQ ID NO: 1 and SEQ ID NO: 2 for the treatment of a disease state such as cancer. However, Morse (Current Opinion in Molecular Therapeutics 2001; 3(1): 102-105) teaches the use of a formulation comprising a liposome and a peptide referred to as BLP-24, which appears to be identical to the claimed SEQ ID NO: 1, for the treatment of lung cancer. Thus, in view of the teachings of Morse, the special technical feature linking the inventions of Groups 1-2 does not appear to be a contribution over the prior art.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Determining ONE of the following: (a) tumor size, (b) tumor location, (c) nodal stage, (d) growth rate of the non-small cell lung cancer or prostate cancer, (e) survival rate of the individual, (f) changes in the individual's lung cancer or prostate cancer symptoms, (g) changes in the individual's PSA concentration, (h) changes in the individual's PSA concentration doubling rate, or (i) changes in the individual's quality of life.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a). The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

The following claim(s) are generic: 1 and 7.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Pursuant to PCT Rule 13.2 and PCT Administrative Instructions, Annex B, Part 1(f)(1)(B)(2), the species are not art-recognized equivalents.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
